DRY GOODS AND CARPET STORE

Heretofore it has not been our practice to give an extended mention to the bargains we are presenting—just a brief mention has sufficed, as it was found that our customers have proved the best advertisement we could get. But at the present time we are offering so many exceptional bargains and this sale will last for such a brief period (30 DAYS) that we find it necessary to use this means of reaching the buying public. Now the object of sacrificing the goods enumerated below is to make room for our Spring and Summer stock, which will soon arrive. Ours is a first-class store and the largest of its kind in Nevada. It is the aim of all first-class houses to carry up-to-date goods; hence this CLEARANCESALE. We said we would give Convincing reasons for your trade. Have we succeeded yet? If not, READ:

LEASING THE PUBLIC DOMAIN.

In an issue of the JOURNAL last week the attention of the people was directed to intended legislation by Congress authorizing a leasing of the public lands in the arid west. We do not oppose a leasing of these lands in the interest of any particular industry or class of individual interests, but the opposition is made, as we understand it, that will be for the best interests of the people at large. While we believe from information we have received that is reliable, that the chief purpose of the cattlemen in procuring the intended legislation is to exclude from the ranges the sheepmen and their flocks, which will be deemed by those who are free from bias to be a very selfish position, as it includes a declaration that the arid west was developed by the creator of all things for a certain class representing certain interests, to the exclusion from God's green earth of another class of his creatures that have received from him the same care that the cattle upon a thousand hills have received.

When the Master made his advent upon the earth at Bethlehem the men who attended their flocks by night were the men whose attention was directed to the star in the east, and it cannot be ascertained from the record that a cattlemen was in sight at that time. The most strange thing connected with that event is that the cause for the exclusion of the cattle men should not be explained till now.

Selfishness in a man or in a class of men, when it becomes aggressive, is always oppressive, and for that reason the cattlemen must have been excluded from the chief event upon the earth when the proclamation was made, "Peace on earth, good will to men."

Meetings were suggested by the JOURNAL where the people could protest against the wrong to the general public that will come through the proposed legislation. No effort has been made to call meetings, which we conclude is not an acceptable mode of proceeding to the people. Should it be that they do not care to take action in the matter, we would like to know that fact, and for the purpose of ascertaining the JOURNAL will prepare and mail blank petitions for signatures to those who are interested, which petitions when signed may be returned to the JOURNAL office, and we will forward them to be laid before Congress. Correspondence is invited upon the subject for the purpose of testing public sentiment respecting the proposed legislation.

THE CANAL TREATY.

It is more than pleasant to learn that the canal treaty with Great Britain will not be ratified by the Senate. There should be no feeling against England, respecting the matter, as we are possessed with ability to care for our own interests, but it appeared when the treaty was given to the Senate for its action that outside pressure would prevail, to the humiliation of this country, but the crises has passed and it is now asserted that it will be withdrawn or rejected.

There was no cause that demanded a submission of the right of the United States to the care of England as we are capable of caring for them without outside aid.

The fact that the administration has entered into the colony business with England is not sufficient reason for us to go into a canal enterprise with that power and more especially so when we acquire the land to build the canal over and furnish the money to build the water way.

It had the appearance, at the beginning, as though England would become our guardian in the canal project, to the exclusion of our right to our own property except as directed by Great Britain. The fault was not the work of England as it was admitted that the treaty had been prepared by the State Department at Washington, without any influence used by England which made the matter of giving away, as proposed, our right to the absolute control of the canal at all times and under all conditions, the more as troubling to the people.

The seeming desire at Washington to submit to what may be deemed to be the wishes of England without request from that government, is more than an independent people should tolerate.

The self respect of the people demand a firm stand upon all public matters that involve their rights. Firmness with caution are attributes to the statesman that cannot be dispensed with when rights are included but it very much appeared, when the treaty was submitted to the Senate, that firmness, caution and self respect had been disregarded by those who have in charge government for the people.

ANOTHER TRUST APOLGY.

The Gazette attempts to reply to an article in the JOURNAL, from which we take the following:

"The Republican party is the first and only party that has ever passed a federal law restricting and regulating trusts, so that charge cannot lie. This was in 1892. When Cleveland and the Democrats came in they knocked the trust law silly, and have ever since been crying 'down with the trusts.'

The JOURNAL will be obliged by the Gazette if it will explain why it was Grosvenor of Ohio at the opening of Congress read from the laws passed while Cleveland was President to show that no additional legislation could be made against trusts than had been passed by that administration.

The Congressman gave out that no legislation would be made by the present Congress because the laws passed while Cleveland was President covered all the questions there were before the country respecting trusts.

While the Gazette makes apologies for the trusts, it would be well to state facts.

How Quartz Is Made.

The origin of ore deposits and mode of deposition can be conveniently observed at Steamboat Springs, where clouds of steam issues from many vents over a bare, rocky space half a mile long, in a narrow valley, lined by volcanic ridges on each side. The vents are separated but occur in parallel lines, showing that they are connected by fissures, filled with opaline quartz, water issuing from a narrow, middle crevice. Some are wholly filled with quartz and have become true quartz fissure veins. Some of these larger fissures are half a mile long, a foot wide, open and parallel, about twenty-five feet apart, and descending downward to the bottom of the quartz crust, 30 feet. Can be followed no further because they have deposited quartz in such abundance as to cover up their original vents in the under-lying rock. Water does not issue from all the fissures, but can be seen and heard eight or ten feet below in violent agitation from steam and carbonic acid gas. The quartz filling these fissures in the hottest parts is gelatinous, in others spongy and in others hard, or in layers of agate, chalcedony or sugar quartz. Everywhere there is the same distinct ribbon or banded structure, resulting from successive layers of quartz being laid on the sides of the fissure by watery solutions. The quartz in these fissures contains sulphides of iron, copper, cinabar, and even free gold. The metallic contents, as in old fissure veins, are in much less proportion than the quartz vein-stones.

Operations at the Ray mine near Phoenix, Ariz., have been suspended and three hundred men employed by that company are now idle. The mine was paying, but young blinds from the school of mines in London, were put in charge and they put in their time planting wolf and drinking champagne. It is understood that mining men of experience will be put in charge and the mines reopened.

HOPE ALMOST GONE—

Special to the JOURNAL.

LONDON, February 20, 4 A. M.—A member of the cabinet stated tonight that the War Office had received a telegram to the effect that Cronje's army was hopelessly surrounded and certain of destruction or capture.

The government is awaiting more definite news before making news public. Boers are hurrying toward Bloemfontein, with British fighting them all the way. Kitchener is trying to outflank the Boers and drive them back into the hands of McDonald and French.

RELIEF FOR LADYSMITH—

Special to the JOURNAL.

CHIVELRY, February 20.—The British are now occupying all the hills to the right of Colenso, including Hangwae, which the Boers evacuated Sunday night after a desperate defense. The capture of Hangwae is of immense importance as it is regarded as the key to Ladysmith.

Relief of the besieged town now seems almost certain. The line of Boer fortresses is now broken and the British have achieved a decided success in capturing the enemy's position at Monte Christo. The Boers are in full retreat.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The attention of the senate this week will be given largely to the relation of the United States to its insular possessions.

Ex-Consul Macrum reiterates his charges against British officials.

The legislature of Newfoundland will declare its loyalty to the imperial government.

Snow is falling heavily along the Atlantic seaboard, causing railroad blockades.

Kansas City and Milwaukee are rival claimants for the Democratic national convention.

General Shafter is of the opinion that the Philippine insurrection is nearly at an end.

Coming Attraction.

Matt Grau, advance agent for the Gran Opera Company, which will have the boards at McKissick's Opera House has completed the arrangements for the appearance of his company.

It had not been his intention to give a matinee, but, in compliance with numerous requests, he will bill that but over new and charming opera, "The Bohemian Girl," for the matinee Saturday afternoon.

"Wang," the opera heard by so many recites in the Baldwin theater, when DeWolf Hopper appeared in it, will be the bill for Friday evening. "Paul Jones" will be the attraction Saturday night.

The advance sale opened yesterday, and between four and five hundred dollars worth of seats were reported sold.

A SURE CURE FOR CROUP

Twenty-five Years' Constant Use without a Failure.

The first indication of croup is hoarseness, and in a child subject to that disease it may be taken as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following this hoarseness is a peculiar cough. If Chamberlain's Cough Balsam is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough appears, it will prevent attack. It is used in many thousand homes in this broad land and never disappoints the anxious mothers. We have yet to learn of a single instance in which it has not proved effectual. No other preparation can show such a record—twenty-five years' constant use without a failure. For sale by Wm. Pinniger, Druggist.

Every Balsam is the best medicine in the world to regulate stomach, liver and kidneys and to purify the blood. It gives strong nerves, bright eyes, smooth, velvety skin, rich complexion. It will make a good-looking, charming woman of a run-down person. Only 50 cents at S. J. Hodkinson's drug store.

Lumber Yard Destroyed

Valuable Property Goes Up in Smoke.

The lumber yards of the Reno Mill and Lumber Company were destroyed by fire Sunday afternoon. The loss is estimated at $18,000 and was insured for $10,000.

Shortly after three o'clock Sunday afternoon the fire was discovered in the office of the company and an alarm was immediately turned in by H. Block. The wind was blowing a gale at the time and for awhile the flames threatened to spread to the residence portion of the town.

However, the fire department responded promptly and within five minutes two engines were at work pumping three streams of water onto the raging mass of burning lumber.

By this time the fire had gained such headway in the dry mass of lumber that it was impossible to quench it, so Chief Hodgkin soon directed his men to save the adjoining property of the company.

The flames were not under control until late Sunday evening and it was found necessary to keep the water playing on the flames until six o'clock Monday morning.

James Henry, an old employee of the company, was resting in the building when the fire started and barely had time to escape with his life. As it was, Mr. Henry was badly burned about the face and hands but no serious results are anticipated.

It was the intention of the Lumber Company to move their yards nearer to the mill at an early date so it is not probable that they will rebuild on the old site.

The origin of the fire is unknown but it is surmised to have been due to tramps who carelessly left a burning cigar or cigarette stump laying around to the lumber.

Several minor blazes were started by flying sparks, but vigilant property owners prevented a spread of flames.

Whispering Nelse Comes to Grief.

"Whispering Nelse" at last has come to grief. A few months ago he was arrested and charged with disturbing the peace of those who reside in his neighborhood. The case was called before Justice Linn, and twelve men good and true found Nelse guilty. He could not see in the same light as they and appealed the case to the District Court, and Judge Curier and a jury listened to his arguments yesterday afternoon.

Both prosecution and defense had a formidable army of witnesses in attendance, and though the defense had more witnesses, it seems that the prosecution had the best side of the argument, for the jury brought in a verdict of guilty within ten minutes after leaving the courtroom.

Mr. Nelson waived time for passing sentence, and Judge Curier imposed a fine of $100, with an alternative of fifty days in the county jail. The defendant accepted the alternative.

Sophomores Elect Officers.

The class of '02 elected officers last week. The following were chosen to conduct the destinies of the class: B. C. Landbeater, president; Seymour Chase, vice-president; P. J. Quinn, secretary; Mrs. McCormick, treasurer.

The sophomores are also preparing to give a farewell reception to J. R. Cameron, who leaves for San Francisco next week to take the examination preparatory to entering West Point.

Cut in Clothing.

H. Leter, the popular clothing merchant has announced that he will give the people of Reno real bargains in tailor made clothing. He has cut his price to figures never before heard of in this vicinity. Another thing that Mr. Leter does is to refund your money if goods purchased from him are not as represented. Watch for his advertisement in to-morrow's issue.

A Pleasant Evening.

The social given last evening by the Rebekahs in Investment hall was a very pleasant event. There were dancing and refreshments, in addition to an excellent musical and elocutionary program, participated in by the Julien orchestra and by Messrs. Murray, McCarren, Merrill and Sims.

The Press Excluded.

Regent Deal, Regent Starrett and Regent (pardon) C. C. Wallace met back of the station after the session of the board last night and in subdued tones discussed affairs of State. It was another executive session.

It is reported on good authority that the Sunset Company will run a wire to Carson and Virginia within the next few weeks.

The Regents' Secret Pow-wow

Us Und Gott Sitting Back of Bolted Doors.

Scribe: "What objection do you have to my reminiscing?"

Mr. Deal: "Matters of discipline and other private matters will come before the board."

Scribe: "Then you object to the presence of a reporter?"

A positive answer was at last obtained. The meetings of the board of regents are executive and secret. There is something more radical than present censorship. What can be the nature of these mystical and covert meetings? We may possibly know after reading what the board chooses to make matters of record. Mr. Taylor will be due at the JOURNAL office in another hour.

Secretary Taylor brought to the JOURNAL office at a little after midnight the eagerly awaited report. It seems the public was excluded from a meeting where nothing happened except passing upon a couple of nominations and hearing a report of an eastern trip. At least, this is all that was placed under the category of official business.

It was admitted that some one was censured, "but not enough to hurt him." Who was the some one? The public have no right to know. What was done about the student demonstration? The boys should not have the temerity to ask.

A board of regents that is above the laws of the State in that they employ Chinese help in a State institution and who so far disdain customs and usages in that they disbarge worthy professors without warning, hearing or reason, should not be questioned by the people who support the institution as to what they do and why they do it.

By the way, the report that Mr. Taylor kindly brought to this office contains the information that Dr. Stubbs, while in the east, arranged for the appointment of an irrigation engineer for the State, who will be attached to the experiment station and whose salary will be paid by the general government. He will enter upon his duties April 1st.

The regents have applied to the War Department for a retired officer as military instructor. They confirmed the following appointments: Peter Franzen, assistant professor zoology and physiology. P. B. Kennedy, assistant professor botany and horticulture.
